We rode to Portsmouth, a tiring trip. The bus and the train trip was very crowded and scary. I was a twenty year old mother with a six month old baby girl. There were both Dutch and English War Brides on the Queen Mary. We shared cabins and baby sat for each other while doing our laundry and meal times. Mackenzie King was also sailing on the Queen Mary. I did not know him until the other girls informed me that it was he holding my baby while I was busy looking after my disembarking papers, (which helped me a lot) and gave me a little free time. My destination was Canning, Kings County living in my husband's homestead with his father - a very nice experience.
